

Love Sonnet, by Ruhaima

I have been struck in the heart by Cupid,
No ambition to see a goodli'er man.
I'm so crazy in love it is stupid,
I will not obey my dear father's ban.
I've been caged all my life on this island,
Look to the sky and its monochrome hue.
How I wish to travel to the dry land,
I'm willing to break all my ties for you.
Entrancing eyes that stare only at me,
Just by looking at you, my world brightened.
My heart keeps pounding, Oh how I love thee,
I feel my soul finally enlightened.
I wish we can always be together,
In my heart I will love you forever.

Love Sonnet, by Tilly T

I have been struck in the heart by Cupid,
No ambition to see a goodlier man,
I'm so crazy in love its is stupid,
I will not obey my dear father's ban.
My dearest Ferdinand is so dreamy,
The first man that e're I saw, be the last,
I love you so much, it makes me weary,
Please see my future and forget my past.
O you wonder! You said, it warmed my heart,
'Traitor,' said my father, 'I don't trust him!'
Ferdinand please love me with every part,
If you do not like me back, it will sting.

'He's gentle and not fearful,' I replied,
I'll become your Queen, when I am your bride.

A love sonnet, by Nadia and Ellie:

I have been struck in the heart by Cupid,
No ambition to see a goodlier man,
I'm so crazy in love it is stupid,
I will not obey my dear father's ban.
So hard I was hit with bow and arrow,
I had never met a man so noble,
It made my naïve heart beat to and fro,
I'd be happy to hear a wedding bell.
Love so fierce makes me tremble and shiver,
The eyes and smile that make him so handsome,
Devotion flows as fast as a river,
I need him so much, I'd pay his ransom.
Sticks and stones may break my bones, so they say,
But you will never hurt me in that way.
